

Delivering the SPARK that Moves the World®

PROSPARK® Coil-On-Plug Insulators

Since vehicles with direct ignition systems were first introduced in 1988, an ever-increasing number of new cars and trucks are being manufactured using Coil-On-Plug (COP) technology for ignition systems. In 2007, more than 70 percent of all new vehicle production utilized Coil-On-Plug technology, and today more than 30% of all vehicles on the road use COP.

These complex engines require ignition components that deliver maximum spark, provide long life and meet original manufacturer design. General Cable's ProSpark® Coil-On-Plug Insulators are a cost-effective solution to replace insulators that fail due to normal wear and tear or are damaged during tune-ups.
